After many intricate experiments, scientists have discovered methods for obtaining all the natural digestants. These have been combined in the proportion found in the human body and united with substances that build up the digestive organs, making a compound called Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and allows all dyspepsias to eat plenty of nourishing food while the stomach is in medicinal being radically cured by the medicinal agents it contains. It is pleasant to take and will give quick relief. Winston Drug Co.

Humiliating Blood Diseases.

Humiliating blood diseases can be cured. This is not a theory, it is a fact. Circles are being made every day, though they are not made in a day. The reason why so many men are not cured is because they have been led into the trap of using a remedy that does not cure. It does the work of a blood purifier. When that is done the disease disappears. The best purifier is Dr. DeWitt's Sanguiferin. It does the work of a blood purifier. For sale by Winston Drug Co.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by H. C. Crute.

Fleming & Clark are showing a beautiful line of up-to-date colored shirts.

Does It Pay to Buy Cheap.

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more serious and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only kills and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommend it many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by H. C. Crute.

If you go to the Paris Exposition you will need a Steamer Trunk. If you stay at home you should have a Suit Case. Fleming & Clark are offering both at low prices.

BRIEFS AND PERSONALS.

Never a soul but a gift doth own
For doing some good thing well,
And in its faithful doing alone
The joys of living dwell;
Laughter and song to its work belong,
That makes our lives complete,
For the soul's content is with it blent,
And the use of the gift is sweet!

Great or small in the world's esteem,
What need it mean to you?
Good work is good in the Master's scheme,
Who says what each shall do;
And the things that last when your day's past,
They come from the soul's uplift.
That is left alone in the rapture known
To the work of the special gift!

We regret to learn that there is little likelihood of the Farmville Band being ready and willing to make music for the Fair this fall. Like no band, no circus; so no band, no Fair. Of course there will be a first class band for all three days.

This is vacation season with a large number of our people, but the farmer has added at least six hours to his days work. They are averaging now about 16 hours out of the 24 and yet they are not complaining, except of soulless combines and hungry worms.

An odd way of removing his glasses is practiced by Henry Clews, the New York banker. Instead of displacing them with his fingers he gives a twist to his nose, and down the glasses drop to the limit of the string to which they are attached. A leading banker of Farmville has the same handless way of doing the same thing.

Has the McKinley administration anything to do with Farmville's building boom? We trow not. All we get from that source anyhow is a postmaster and we cannot hope for an improvement on "Boss" Wicker. Not a political boss of the offensive sort, but boss by universal consent and by reason of his many good qualities.

On the walls of the HERALD office are to be seen pictures of Bryan and McKinley side by side. Both clean shaved with full foreheads, well shaped noses, firmly set lips, piercing eyes and perfect specimen of physical health. But here the likeness ends. Attention Farmers.

Death of Mrs. Walker.

Mrs. Sallie Walker, wife of Mr. C. S. Walker, died at her home in Cumberland county, Wednesday, July 4th, and was buried Thursday at 4 o'clock. She had been ill but a few months past with that un conquerable disease, consumption. She was a daughter of the late Mr. J. E. Crowder, of Cumberland county. Her husband and six children survive her.

Sunday Services.

With the exception of the Episcopal, our pulpits were occupied by the regular pastors on Sunday morning.

At night the congregations worshipped together at the Baptist church. A large audience greeted the pastor, Rev. Mr. Thompson, who in turn gave them a good sermon. The singing by the choir was excellent, and Mr. Fleming rendered a pleasant solo.

Special Premiums.

The following is a partial list of those who will offer special premiums at the Farmville Fair:

M. Laskey, Paulett, Son & Co., Fleming & Clark, Duvall, Robertson & Co., The Winston Drug Co., Noel Bros., W. T. Doyno, H. C. Crute, N. B. Davidson, M. A. Hunt & Co., of Chattanooga, through W. T. Doyno; J. F. Walton, Virginia State Fertilizer Co., W. H. Hubbard, W. P. Venable & Co. and many others.

Invitation to the Fair.

The Indianapolis News calls attention to a movement upon the part of the State Board of Agriculture in Indiana to induce the people of the large cities to attend the county fairs.

We respectfully call the attention of Virginia's Board to the fact that Farmville's Fair will open on the 10th of October and continue three days. The Board and all friends are cordially invited to be present.

The Fourth in Farmville.

Independence Day was probably more observed in Farmville Wednesday than for many years past. As usual the bank, postoffice, railroad office and warehouses were closed, and nearly everybody of the male population went to Burger's grove, a mile South of town where the barbecue was held. There was plenty of amusement there for the entire crowd, and what was better there was an abundance to satisfy the inner man. Everyone appeared to enjoy himself throughout the day.

A large number of children spent the day appropriately at the lithia springs.

The Fair.

At the present writing the work of preparation has been earnest and effective. Interest in town and country is wide awake and the music of the advancing procession can almost be heard in the distance.

The "buttons" are busy repeating from lapel to lapel, and from home to home, and from community to community, "I'm going to the Farmville Fair are you? October 10, 11 and 12." You can aid the "buttons" in their good work, and as good citizens you are under obligation to do so. "A word in season, how good is it." Speak it out, send it out in the largest sense of the word be a patriot as well as citizen. Farmville has done much for you. Pay her back in full measure.

First Meeting of New Council.

The first meeting of the new town council was held last Monday afternoon at 6 o'clock immediately after the customary caucus of the members for the selection of officers. Every member of the council was present except Mr. W. E. Davidson, who was reported on the sick list. Those in attendance, therefore, were Mayor Blanton, presiding; Messrs. E. L. Erambert, W. E. Anderson, E. L. Morris, J. R. Martin, H. E. Wall, J. B. Farrar, A. E. Craile and W. P. Gilliam. There was no message from the mayor and the first business was election of officers for the ensuing twelve months, which was as follows:

President of Council, Dr. W. E. Anderson.

On motion of Mr. Wall it was unanimously agreed that the town shall have three instead of two policemen in future, the third officer to serve as street commissioner as well.

As one of the policemen Mr. Wall nominated R. I. Orange who was elected by acclamation. Leslie Fogus was next put in nomination as another police officer and he too was elected by acclamation.

It was the order of the council that the policemen shall while on duty wear a regulation uniform at their own expense.

For clerk of the council E. J. Whitehead was unanimously reelected. There was no opposition candidate.

For treasurer S. W. Paulett, Jr., was chosen without opposition.

For commissioner of the revenue Herbert Rife was reelected.

For the committee appointments see directory on first page of the HERALD. G. M. Robeson was reelected chief of the fire department with all the police as his assistants.

O. T. Wicker was reelected superintendent of the electric light plant, and the selection of an electrician was postponed until the regular monthly meeting of the council, with instructions that the Light Committee reduce to writing the duties of that employee in contract form.

The office of Street Commissioner was left open until the next meeting.

By unanimous consent $25.00 was appropriated to aid the firemen in the expense of their barbecue on the 4th.

At the request of Mr. W. P. Gilliam, president of the Fair Association, $50 was appropriated to that enterprise.

On motion of Mr. Erambert it was ordered that the street be daily sprinkled by temporary arrangement until the next council meeting.

A Card From Mr. Starke.

On leaving the school work in Farmville, Va., I wish herewith to express my appreciation and thanks to those people of the town and surrounding country who gave me their sympathy and co-operation during the four years it was my pleasure to serve them.

The teacher makes the school; but parents, by their co-operation, have very much to do with the making of the teacher; so then it follows that parents are greatly responsible for the future of the school.

To those lending me their aid, I would say, do even more for the new principal, whoever he may be. To those who were indifferent, let me say that such a position is unworthy of any true citizen, for in this age certainly education demands the most careful consideration of all progressive citizens; then let this class become actively engaged in building up the educational interests of the town.

To those that criticized harshly before they even knew all the circumstances connected with the cause of their criticism, I would say, there is "a more excellent way," and do not be satisfied until you have tried it.

Appreciative of the uniform kindness and courtesies of friends and acquaintances in and around Farmville, it is not without a feeling of regret that I leave; and I shall often recall with pleasure my association with the educational interests of the place.

N. C. STARKE.

Exhibition on Wheels.

The City of Charlotte, is the name of a palace car, sent out by the Bureau of Immigration and the Department of Agriculture of the State of North Carolina, containing a fine exhibition of a State's resources, on wheels.

The "rolling palace," as it is called, is filled with the products, the woods, fruits, minerals, ores, gems and gold nuggets of the State of North Carolina—showing 110 specimens of woods, over 50 varieties of fruits, 180 varieties of farm products, over 100 kinds of minerals, and 20 kinds of gems, which carry with them the medal taken at the World's Fair, as the finest exhibition of any State in the Union.

The five gold nuggets representing 49 pounds of gold are valued at $15,000 by the State of North Carolina, were found in the oldest and richest mine in the union, and are in cases to show for themselves.

The car is under the management of H. W. Bason, of Charlotte, N. C., and is kept going continually, distributing over the whole country literature tending to turn the tide of Immigration toward North Carolina and showing her varied products at the same time.

The car was fitted by contributions from the towns of the State, the city in whose honor the car is named, contributing most. This car will be in Farmville on tomorrow and Monday next. A small admittance fee of 10c. is charged to defray expenses.

It has been demonstrated by experience that consumption can be prevented by the early use of One Minute Cough Cure. This is the favorite remedy for coughs, colds, croup, asthma, grippe and all throat and lung troubles. Cures quickly. Winston Drug Co.

Town Topics.

Editor Herald:—I have been telling the town people much of what is going on in the country and with your permission I will this week tell the country people something of town life.

Those of your friends who come from the country are impressed with the wonderful improvement in appearances on Main and other streets, and still the good work goes on. The old Masonic building, about which cluster many tender memories, will be replaced by a modern and attractive structure. The new store house of Mr. T. J. Davis is a great improvement on the old, the Commercial Company corner is one of the most attractive in town, the Richardson block would not feel lonesome on Broadway, the work on the Wall building, Second and Main, has been well done, the Wiltse store has been brightened up, the present business home of Mayor Blanton is a gem, the Opera House looks better in its new dress, while from end to end of the street "every prospect pleases."

The private residences of the place were never in such condition. Col. Walker has just made extensive improvements to his already palatial home, Mr. E. Chappell has added to property values in the eastern section of the town by building one of its most attractive dwellings, Mr. W. P. Gilliam has adorned the southern with the most elaborate porch of the ages, while Mr. W. E. Davidson has crowned the western with a home of most imposing appearance.

The promise of new buildings for the near future abound.

Additions to the State Female Normal School are now under construction.

It is said that the Planters Bank will be enlarged and made to compare favorably with any banking house of the State, that a new hotel, modern and essentially up-to-date, is contemplated, Mr. J. L. Cobb has recently purchased the lot upon which the home of the late Mr. W. T. Johnson stood, and will, as I am told, erect a handsome residence thereon. Mr. W. P. Gilliam is now the owner of the Whaley lot and will no doubt build on it, and an earnest effort is being made to buy a lot suitable for the erection of another large tobacco factory.

Speaking of tobacco factories I am justified in saying that no where in the State are there bigger or better than in Farmville. The fire, a fiend the night it was raging, proved to be a valuable friend.

The Paulett factory is built of brick, a substantial and imposing structure 80 by 150 feet, giving employment to 17 hands with a weekly pay roll of $80.

The Dunnington factory is also of brick, 50 by 150 feet, employing in both factories 125 hands and with a weekly pay roll of $500 to $600.

The W. P. Gilliam & Co., another brick building 90 by 120 feet employing there and another building 125 hands and pays them $700.

The B. L. Anderson factory is likewise of brick, 50 by 150 feet, and is rented by E. L. Morris & Co., who employ 200 hands and pay them each week about $500.

The factory of Mr. D. T. Elam is another substantial brick structure and is rented by Mr. W. G. Dunnington.

Mr. A. W. Drumeller's factory was not born of fire, is not so large as those already mentioned, but for years has been receiving and sending out the weed improved by reason of its stay in this business home.

There are three large wooden structures in town under whose roofs tobacco is also prepared for the markets of the world. One owned and occupied by Messrs. W. P. Gilliam & Co., the other by Messrs. Dunlop & Co., and still another by Mr. Geo. E. Cox.

The factory of Mr. Cox is kept as an emergency hospital, ready to receive the overflow when the "glut" takes place.

The old Bruce factory is falling to decay, but the owner is ready to restore it to far more than its ancient proportions and glory. I doubt not but that this will be done before another season.

The warehouses of Farmville, four in number, with rumor of another in sight, cover acres of ground, afford selling room for 50,000,000 lbs. of tobacco, accommodations for 500 horses a night and just as many men and boys as care to crowd together.

I cannot imagine anything good to eat or drink, wear or in any manner to be made use of that a farmer can't find in Farmville. Those who visit the place in person need only look to learn what the stores offer the buyer, while those at home who are fortunate enough to have a copy of the HERALD at hand need only consult its advertising columns to know where to buy dry goods and drugs, groceries and grass seed, shoes and sugar, clothing and castings, hats and handles, plows and paper, blankets and bluing, insurance and insect powder, chinaware and coffee, brandy and beer, furniture and fertilizer, cough drops and o-lins, and they do say if you can pay the price you can get all the money you want, and you know you can't get hats unless you can like wise pay the price.

The knitting factory is under roof, and when its business note is added to Farmville's industrial music there will be livelier strains in the air.

I need say nothing of your Normal, known and read of all Virginia, nor of your churches the peers of any in town of like size in the land, nor of your people, except that they do go to bed earlier, and get up earlier, and work harder than most city folks, the result being that they are healthy, cheerful and thrifty. A word from a wide-awake farmer and I am done. I was at his home when he received a copy of the HERALD and he remarked: "I do not see how any man who feels an interest in his neighbors and friends can get along without the local paper."

ON THE GO.

A Distinguished Son of Farmville.

The following is from the Pine Bluff (Ark.) Daily Graphic, and refers to Hon. J. J. Doyno, a Farmville raised and educated boy who is now Superintendent of Public Instruction of Arkansas:

The association was called to order with President Clary, of Fordyce, in the chair.

It had been announced that Mr. Doyno, state superintendent of public instruction was to deliver an address, and when that able and distinguished gentleman took the floor a ripple of applause was heard over the entire assembly. There seemed to be magnetism in the name itself, for long before its echoes had ceased to be heard in the classic auditorium, where in the past the voices of so many men of distinguished mind and oratory have reverberated from rafters to rafters, where the souls of multitudes have been soothed and caressed by the tender and sympathetic harmonies of music, there sprang into the eyes of all present flames of enthusiasm and expectancy.

Mr. Doyno has been blessed by provident nature with a most happy manner of speech. His enunciation was directly audible in every part of the hall, and his voice forceful. The subject of his address was "A State Normal School," and it was a masterful effort in the support of such an institution. He clearly proved to every unprejudiced person present that the normal school was an institution most universally needed in this State. His arguments were logically founded, and it is to be deeply regretted that the legislatures of this State have remained blandly dormant on such an important matter as this.

Felden Facts.

Editor Herald:—On Wednesday night there was a most delightful dance given by Mr. Werner Redd at his home for the young ladies of the neighborhood. The party of young people were chaperoned by Mrs. Nathan Scott and Mrs. William Diggs. The dancing began at 8 o'clock and was kept up until one o'clock. Among the dancers were Misses Maude Allen, Estelle Chappell, Eddie Keeton, Ida Scott, Maymie McCraw, Annie Allen and Eunice Campbell. Messrs. Will and Feunell Redd, Joe Allen, Robert Priddy, Johnnie Staples, Arthur Allen, Norman Ranson, Allen Jones, Willie Neale, Pryor Burke, Branch Scott and Werner Redd.

The farmers in this neighborhood have been very busy during the past week cutting wheat and oats and "scrapping down" tobacco, thinning corn etc.

Miss Eddie Keeton, who has been visiting Miss Maymie McCraw for several weeks returned to her home in Jetersville Monday.

Misses Maymie McCraw and Martina Gallagher will leave for Crewe and Jetersville this week where they expect to spend most of the summer.

Miss Antysh Allen will leave this week for Norfolk, where she will visit friends and relatives. She will be gone most of the summer and will be greatly missed by her many friends and acquaintances.

Miss Viola Holt, of Charlotte county, is the guest of Miss Bessie Barksdale this week.

Mrs. Tyler, from Kentucky, is at her mother's, Mrs. Dick Stokes, for the summer.

Program for the Press.

The annual meeting of the Virginia Press Association at Old Point, July 17th to 19th inclusive, promises to be one of the most successful yet held.

A program, on which there are many excellent topics and speakers, has been arranged. It is expected that Senator John W. Daniel and Hon. Carter Glass, of the Lynchburg News, will deliver addresses. Colonel C. O'B. Cowardin, of the Richmond Dispatch, has had to decline an invitation to do so, owing to a number of prior engagements. The program is as follows:

"Why Join a Press Association?" C. D. Denit, Salem Times-Register.

"Injustice Done Weeklies by Newspaper Directories," Hon. S. R. Donohoe, Fairfax Herald.
